There were 16 hands that raised. I explained that there were only 14 positions available and explained that if we had more than 14 persons that wished to be a delegate we would have to have an election; we would have to create around eighty ballots, one each for the precinct members that were present at the time. There were over 150 precinct members that attended the caucus and voted in the presidential preference poll throughout that evening.

>> I asked for another show of hands and there were this time only 14 hands indicating desire of being a delegate. I called for a vote by a show of hands to elect the fourteen persons that now had their hands in the air to be elected as the precinct's delegates. Sixty or seventy hands went into the air, an obvious majority. I declared the 14 people elected. Myself and Sharon Anderson were among those elected. I instructed the elected delegates to fill out the certificates. We then had an election for alternates with three persons elected.

>> I continued to run the meeting for a period of time and when I had the opportunity to review the delegate certificates that had been filed out I noticed that two persons that had not been elected as delegates, but had been elected as alternate delegates, had filed out the wrong certificates. I discussed the errors with them and corrected the certificates with their concurrence and agreement and initialed the corrections. I then signed the fourteen delegate certificates including the two corrected ones and therefore certified the election as did the Secretary.

>> If you have received a complaint about my certification of the delegate election please immediately provide me a copy. If you intend to challenge my certification it would leave only today for a committee hearing and all elected delegates must be informed and have the opportunity to appear (today) so please let me know of the time and place immediately. As any hearing would take over an hour at an absolute minimum with over a dozen persons testifying it obviously could not be done tomorrow before the convention convenes. I seriously question why this issue is being raised at this late date when the caucus and delegate election was almost six weeks ago. Please immediately provide me copies of the filings of Washoe delegate election results with the State which I believe were due some time ago. I believe the opportunity to challenge or question my certification of the delegate election has long since past.

>>

>> Please immediately provide me with a list of the Credentials Committee members. I was surprised when I requested the identities of the Committee membership yesterday you, as alleged Chair, indicated you were not sure who was on the Committee.
